

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

PREFACE.

Some writer has said that the complete history of a city is in its literature, and this remark is true to a greater extent than is generally taken note of. The literature of Manchester is somewhat varied in its subject-matter, but, considering the comparative short period of the city's existence, its published literature has kept pace with its progressive record.

The following catalogue of a portion of the literature that Manchester has produced, has been gathered during the twenty years past, and this record of its existence has been made, that in the event of a loss by fire, or if otherwise scattered, it would serve as a record for future reference. The conflagration of February 5, 1856, when the City Library of Manchester was burned, nearly consumed the literature of this city published prior to that date.

This catalogue comprises the book and pamphlet literature, including some of the leading magazine literature published serially. It contains the published literary efforts of former and present residents, whether natives or temporary, and whether published prior to their residence here, or subsequent to their departure; also, all works relating to, or published by the city. The catalogue also includes more or less of literature relating to Bedford; together with some relating to Londonderry and Derry, of which towns Manchester was formerly a part.

Books and pamphlets will generally be found under the names of their authors, as names are more familiar to residents than titles of their works; a very few are entered under both the title and the author's name. The title-pages have generally been given in full, regardless of uniformity in cataloguing. All pamphlets have been mentioned without regard to value, as a matter of record, and date of publication, with size and pages generally.

The catalogue has been made by John W. Moore, a resident veteran printer, publisher, and editor, and the entire collection, (with about a dozen exceptions,) is preserved in the Manchester Historical Collection of the undersigned, a former printer, publisher, and editor.

The impression of the first newspaper—Amoskeag Representative—commenced October 18, 1839, and was published by John Caldwell; the second newspaper—Amoskeag Memorial—commenced January 1, 1840, was published by Joseph C. Emerson of Weare; the third—Manchester Democrat—commenced April 26, 1842, was published and edited by Kimball (William H.) & Kidder (Joseph). The History of the Newspaper Press of Manchester has been prepared by John W. Moore from the files preserved in the Manchester Historical Collection of the undersigned, and will be published the present year by the New Hampshire Press Association.

The first published pamphlet in reference to Manchester, now known, is the [Rev. Joseph Secombe] Discourse utter'd in part at Ammauskeeg-Falls, in the Fishing-Season, 1739: "BUSINESS AND DIVERSION inoffensive to God, and necessary for the comfort and support of human society;" from the text, "Simon Peter saith unto them, 'I go a fishing.'" This discourse was printed in Boston, in 1743, — one hundred and forty-two years ago — and only five copies are now known to be extant. The first pamphlets to be imprinted in Manchester, now known, were An Address delivered at Pembroke, N. H., May 13, 1841, and A Historical Sketch of Bedford, N. H.; a discourse delivered July 4, 1841, both by Rev. Thomas Savage, A. M., and printed at the office of Emerson & Murray, in 1841, octavos of sixteen pages each. The first book now known to have been imprinted in Manchester was The Life and Adventures of Seth Wyman; Written by Himself, and printed by J. H. Cate, in 1843, a duodecimo of three hundred and ten pages, bound in cloth. This book was suppressed by relatives of the autobiographer, before a hundred copies were sold, and is now a scarce book.

This catalogue contains 721 paragraphical entries; and 1676 pamphlets and books are mentioned, annual volumes or serials being counted as one, an average of 42 to the page.

This catalogue is the first record, so far as we are aware, of any town or city's local literature in New Hampshire, and it is desirable that the Bibliography of Manchester be made as complete as possible. Any one seeing this catalogue, and having any pamphlet or book not mentioned therein, or knowing of any book or pamphlet, by former or present residents of Manchester, or any such published by the City of Manchester, will confer a favor by informing us by postal-card, or otherwise, as a second edition with additions will be duly published.
